

“

There is no word for nature

in my language. ‘Nature,’ in English, seems to refer to that which is separate from human beings. It is a distinction we don’t recognize.

Audrey Shenandoah, Clan Mother of the Onondaga Nation

”

Omo Valley,
Ethiopia

© KEVIN SCHAEFER/PETER ARNOLD/SPECIALIST STOCK

“

Plants awaken the aesthetic feeling within us, soften our more violent emotions, inspire us to poetry, and thus nurture our hearts and minds.

Tsunesaburo Makiguchi

”

“

Whoever plants a tree and diligently looks after it until it matures and bears fruit is rewarded.

Hadith (saying of Muhammad)

UNUSUAL ANIMALS

ANGORA RABBIT

The soft wool of English Angora Rabbits produces luxurious yarn. This rabbit is Chu's Swanka, a Grand Champion bred and owned by Betty Chu of California, USA.
PHOTO: BETTY CHU

